Wright, 2023-01-20 Keeping the Republic Eleventh Edition gives students the power to examine the narrative of what's going on in American politics distinguishing fact from fiction and balance from bias and influence the message through informed citizenship. Christine Barbour and Gerald C. Wright draw students into the study of American politics showing them how to think critically about who gets what and how while exploring the twin themes of power and citizenship. With students living through one of the most challenging periods in American life this text is a much-needed resource to help them make sense of politics in America today and become savvy consumers of political information.

Bibliography, 1978 48 Liberal Lies About American History Larry Schweikart, 2008-09-04 A historian debunks four dozen PC myths about our nation's past. Over the last forty years history textbooks have become more and more politically correct and distorted about our country's past argues professor Larry Schweikart. The result he says is that students graduate from high school and even college with twisted beliefs about economics, foreign policy, war, religion, race relations, and many other subjects. As he did in his popular A Patriot's History of the United States Professor Schweikart corrects liberal bias by rediscovering facts that were once widely known. He challenges distorted books by name and debunks forty-eight common myths. A sample: The founders wanted to create a wall of separation between church and state. Lincoln issued the Emancipation Proclamation only because he needed black soldiers. Truman ordered the bombing of Hiroshima to intimidate the Soviets with atomic diplomacy. Mikhail Gorbachev, not Ronald Reagan, was responsible for ending the Cold War. America's past, though not perfect, is far more admirable than you were probably taught. The American Catalogue ...
