Ancillary Health Question Paper Kzn:

Data governance in African health research: ELSI challenges and solutions Donrich Thaldar, Simisola Oluwatoyin Akintola, Bonginkosi Shoz, 2025-04-02 Data protection legislation is increasingly being enacted in African countries. Additionally the African Union recently adopted the AU Data Protection Framework. How are these legal and policy developments influencing established ethics notions about data governance in health research? For example is broad or tiered consent to research participation sufficient or does new legislation require specific consent? How do individual rights in data interact with communitarian values? Should health research receive special treatment from a data protection regulatory perspective? How should African countries approach AI in healthcare? This research topic aims to identify and analyse ELSI challenges in contemporary data governance in African health research and to develop possible solutions for such challenges. Articles in this research topic will aim to assist policy makers, health researchers and ELSI practitioners in Africa to better navigate and where relevant improve data governance in African health research. Perspective style articles as well as more in depth research articles are welcome. While articles can analyse fundamental theoretical issues, application oriented articles and articles that explore lessons learnt in practice are especially encouraged. Authors should address one or more of the following inter related themes within the research topic of data governance in African health research:

- 1 Conflicts between new legal and policy developments and established ethics notions
- 2 Africanisation, decolonisation and intra African rule harmonisation
- 3 The evolution of informed consent and the role of trust
- 4 The various legal, ethical and social dimensions or meanings of data and how these dimensions interact
- 5 Power and control. This includes individual, institutional, ethnic, community and national claims to data. It also includes existing and proposed structures of control of data such as data trusts and data transfer agreements (DTAs)
- 6 Engagement with data protection regulatory authorities
- 7 Artificial intelligence and Big Data

South Africa Yearbook, 2000    Resources in Education, 1999    Climate Change 2001: Impacts, Adaptation, and Vulnerability James J. McCarthy, Intergovernmental Panel on Climate Change. Working Group II., 2001-07-02 Climate Change 2001 Impacts, Adaptation and Vulnerability is the most comprehensive and up to date scientific assessment of the consequences of and adaptation responses to climate change. The report Evaluates evidence that recent observed changes in climate have already affected a variety of physical and biological systems. Studies the vulnerabilities of human populations to future climate change including associated sea level rise and climate extremes such as floods. Takes into account potential impacts on water resources, agriculture and food, human health, settlements and economic activities. Assesses potential responses to climate change of natural environments and the wildlife that inhabit them and identifies environments at particular risk. Considers how adaptation to climate change might lessen adverse impacts or enhance beneficial impacts. Provides an overview of the vulnerabilities and adaptation possibilities for all major regions of the world. Contrasts the different vulnerabilities of the developed and developing parts of the world and explores the implications for sustainable development and equity concerns This latest IPCC assessment will again form the standard scientific reference for all concerned with environmental and social consequences of climate change including students and researchers in environmental and social sciences and policymakers and managers in governmental industry and other organizations responsible for resources likely to be affected by climate change South African Engineer and Electrical Review ,1954
