SECTION A – READING (20 MARKS)

Q1. Read the passage and answer the following questions given below- [10 MARKS]

1. Thought they do not figure among the wonders of the world, but the terracotta warriors of Xian district in China are one of the most significant archaeological excavations of the twentieth century. It is believed that Qin Shi Huangdi (221-207 B.C.), who is considered the first emperor of China, ordered the creation of around 7000 life size clay soldiers in 201 B.C. to guard this tomb for eternity. The emperor is believed to have unified China during his reign and hence, this army is considered a commemoration of his victories. A group of farmers discovered the sculptures in 1974 to the east of Xian in the Shaanxi province. While digging a well, the workers found three pits filled with life-like figures, which were made of a type of terracotta clay. Experts say that long ago, Emperor Shi Huangdi ordered the creation of the clay army along with a 20 square-mile tomb to house it. For 36 years, 7000,000 labourers designed this underground city. It contains models of palaces and towers, and was protected from intruders by automatically triggered crossbows. Apart from life size statues of soldiers and horses, weapons such as swords, spears, battle-axes, shields, crossbows and arrowheads were also found at the pits of the terracotta warriors. Some of these weapons are found to be sharp, coated with chromium oxide, which made them resistant to rust, and corrosion even after being buried for more than 2000 years.

2. Shen Maosheng, from the Qin Shi Huang Terracotta Warriors and Horses Museum, said that archaeologists had located another 11 warriors but had not yet begun to excavate, or dig up the sculptures. Maosheng is of the view that the most significant discovery of this time was that the relics that were found were well preserved and colourfully painted.

3. Today, people from around the world visit China to see the terracotta warriors. What makes these soldiers special is the fact that each figure is individually carved. Therefore, they have different hairstyles, expressions and facial features. The details make the soldiers appear true to life. Inside the pit, the statues are arranged by military rank, which means that the higher the rank, the taller is the statue. The shortest statue is 5 feet 8 inches tall. The tallest is 6 feet 6 inches high. As the lower half, each soldier is made up of solid clay with the upper half being hollow, the figures remain upright.

4. The discovery of Xian's 110 new warriors came after a new finding about the Great Wall of China. An archaeological survey revealed that the Great Wall of China is more than twice as long as previously thought. The wall was originally measured to be about 9000 kms, but it is now measured to be 21196.18 kms long. Beijing officials plan to open two new sections of the Great Wall and to expand other areas to make more room for tourists.

I. Complete the following statements based on your reading of the passage: [5 MARKS]
