30 Years Of Bes Physics - Proceedings Of The Symposium On 30 Years Of Bes Physics Minghan Ye, Changzheng Yuan, 2020-06-05 BES the Beijing Spectrometer began its first groundbreaking physics run thirty years ago in 1989. This is the first high energy physics experiment in China and has been unique throughout the world for its thorough and extended coverage of the tau and charm energy region. Since then the BES detector has undergone steady improvements upgrading to BESII in 1998 and to BESIII in 2008. Over the same period the collaboration has expanded from 150 members across 10 institutions in China and the United States to about 500 members across 72 institutions and 15 countries. The physics program too has extended from light hadron spectroscopy tau and charm physics to the discovery of exotic charmonium like states precision tests of the Standard Model of particle physics and searches for new physics beyond the Standard Model. This special volume collects the proceedings of the symposium held at the Institute of High Energy Physics Beijing in celebration of the 30 year span of achievements and progress at the BES BESII and BESIII experiments. Written by many leaders of the BES collaborations these proceedings document the early days of the BES experiments important milestones and the future physics program at BESIII.

A History of Scientific Journals Aileen Fyfe, Noah Moxham, Julie

McDougall-Waters, Camilla Mørk Røstvik, 2022-10-03 Modern scientific research has changed so much since Isaac Newton's day it is more professional, collaborative and international with more complicated equipment and a more diverse community of researchers. Yet the use of scientific journals to report, share and store results is a thread that runs through the history of science from Newton's day to ours. Scientific journals are now central to academic research and careers. Their editorial and peer review processes act as a check on new claims and findings and researchers build their careers on the list of journal articles they have published. The journal that reported Newton's optical experiments still exists. First published in 1665 and now fully digital, the Philosophical Transactions has carried papers by Charles Darwin, Dorothy Hodgkin and Stephen Hawking. It is now one of eleven journals published by the Royal Society of London. Unrivalled insights from the Royal Society's comprehensive archives have enabled the authors to investigate more than 350 years of scientific journal publishing. The editorial, management, business practices and financial difficulties of the Philosophical Transactions and its sibling Proceedings reveal the meaning and purpose of journals in a changing scientific community. At a time when we are surrounded by calls to reform the academic publishing system it has never been more urgent that we understand its history.
