to fragmentation in the EPS Interpretations of substantive patent law are examined including claim construction Actavis v Eli Lilly exceptions to patentability related to uses of human embryos for industrial or commercial purposes WARF Br stle ISCC and products resulting from essentially biological processes Broccoli and Tomatoes II G3 19 Attempts towards convergence in these areas have had mixed results and in some instances fragmentation may be necessary However similar techniques to those applied in the international legal system to respond to fragmentation are being used in the EPS and where this is seen it has been to good effect It is argued that these methods should be recognised structured and promoted to make our response to fragmentation more effective Fragmentation and the European Patent System will be of interest to academics students and practitioners looking for a new perspective on the EPS Indian Engineering Patrick Doyle,1897 Federal Supplement ,1975 Engineering ,1890 R & D Abstracts Technology Reports Centre (Great Britain),1980 Army and Navy Register ,1930 ESA Bulletin European Space Agency,2006 Pacific International Conference on Aerospace Science and Technology ,1994 Government Reports Annual Index ,1981 Sections 1 2 Keyword Index Section 3 Personal author index Section 4 Corporate author index Section 5 Contract grant number index NTIS order report number index 1 E Section 6 NTIS order report number index F Z Government Reports Index ,1973 General Catalogue of Printed Books to 1955 British Museum.
