A Handbook of Food Crime Allison Gray, Ronald Hinch, 2019-10-09 Food today is over corporatized and under regulated. It is involved in many immoral harmful and illegal practices along production distribution and consumption systems. These problematic conditions have significant consequences on public health and well being nonhuman animals and the environment often simultaneously. In this insightful book Gray and Hinch explore the phenomenon of food crime. Through discussions of food safety food fraud food insecurity agricultural labour livestock welfare genetically modified foods food sustainability food waste food policy and food democracy they problematize current food systems and criticize their underlying ideologies. Bringing together the best contemporary research in this area they argue for the importance of thinking criminologically about food and propose radical solutions to the realities of unjust food systems. Transnational Perspectives on Democracy, Citizenship, Human Rights and Peace Education Mary Drinkwater, Fazal Rizvi, Karen Edge, 2019-02-21 Transnational Perspectives on Democracy Citizenship Human Rights and Peace Education considers ways in which national systems of education could work together across borders to determine the meaning and significance of the principles of democracy human rights and peace education in ways that are comparative and relational. The chapters address issues such as citizenship identity language conflict and peace building global educational policy and democratic approaches to policy and education issues of democracy human rights and peace education through analyses of case studies research findings and policy initiatives drawn from countries in the global north and south. Historical Foundations of Education Theodore Michael Christou, 2023-03-23 This volume considers history as a foundational discipline in education. It shows how history is a means for exploring what it means to be human by considering those stories sources forces and contexts that shape the way we construct narratives. History is more than content no matter what we might recall from our experiences in schools. The volume shows how studying history is one means of uncovering why institutions beliefs policies and practices are as they are. Educational structures are like all things mutable. History empowers the individual to be an actor in this process of change and to act judiciously. About the Educational Foundations series Education as an academic field taught at universities around the world emerged from a range of older foundational disciplines. The Educational Foundations series comprises six volumes each covering one of the foundational disciplines of philosophy history sociology policy studies economics and law. This is the first reference work to provide an authoritative and up to date account of all six disciplines showing how each field's ideas methods theories and approaches can contribute to research and practice in education today. The six volumes cover the same set of key topics within education which also form the chapter titles. Mapping the Field Purposes of Education Curriculum

Schools and Education Systems Learning and Human Development Teaching and Teacher Education Assessment and Evaluation This structure allows readers to study the volumes in isolation by discipline or laterally by topic and facilitates a comparative thematic reading of chapters across the volumes Throughout the series attention is paid to how the disciplines comprising the educational foundations speak to social justice concerns such as gender and racial equality
