Assessing Academic Literacy in a Multilingual Society Albert Weideman,John Read,Theo du Plessis,2020-11-02 South African universities face major challenges in meeting the needs of their students in the area of academic language and literacy The dominant medium of instruction in the universities is English and to a much lesser extent Afrikaans but only a minority of the national population are native speakers of these languages Nine other languages can be media of instruction in schools which makes the transition to tertiary education difficult enough in itself for students from these schools The focus of this book is on procedures for assessing the academic language and literacy levels and needs of students not in order to exclude students from higher education but rather to identify those who would benefit from further development of their ability in order to undertake their degree studies successfully The volume also aims to bring the innovative solutions designed by South African educators to a wider international audience

Defense White Paper , QuantCrit Nichole M. Garcia,Nancy López,Verónica N. Vélez,2023-05-29 Critical race theory CRT in education centers examines and seeks to transform the relationship that undergirds race racism and power CRT scholars have applied a critical race framework to advance research methodologies in the form of qualitative interventions Informed by this work this book reconsiders the possibilities of CRT applications to quantitative methodologies through QuantCrit This volume posits the question How can quantitative methods long critiqued for their inability to capture the nuance of everyday experience support and further a critical race agenda in educational research It provides a starting point for how QuantCrit principles are employed by interdisciplinary contributions in race and quantitative studies The contributors to the book examine the legacy and genealogy of QuantCrit traditions across disciplines to uncover a rich lineage of methodological possibilities for disrupting racism in research. They argue that quantitative approaches cannot be adopted for racial justice aims without an ontological reckoning that considers historical social political and economic power relations. Only then can quantitative approach be re imagined and rectified. This book will be of interest to researchers and advanced students of Education Sociology Social Work Politics and Racial and Ethnic Studies. It was originally published as a special issue of the journal Race Ethnicity and Education The Uganda Gazette Uganda, 2015-12 Race and Ethnicity in English Language Teaching Christopher Joseph Jenks, 2017-08-14. This book examines racism and racialized discourses in the ELT profession in South Korea. The book is informed by a number of different critical approaches to race and discourse and the discussions contained in the chapters offer one way of exploring how the ELT profession can be understood from such perspectives. Observations made are based on the understanding that racism should not be viewed as individual acts of discrimination but rather as a system of social structures. While the book is principally concerned with language teaching and learning in South Korea the findings are situated in a wider discussion of race and ethnicity in the global ELT profession. The book makes the following argument. White normativity is an ideological commitment and a form of racialized discourse that comes from the social actions of those involved in the ELT profession. This normative model or ideal standard constructs a system of racial discrimination that is founded on White privilege, saviorism and neoliberalism. Drawing on a wide range of data sources this book is a must read for anyone interested in critically examining ELT International Abstracts of Human Resources, 2006 The United States Army and Navy Journal and Gazette of the Regular and Volunteer Forces, 1881 Colorado School Laws Colorado, 2018 Wool and Cotton Reporter and Financial Gazette, 1899 Barron's Guide to Graduate Business Schools, 2005 Profiles of American Colleges -- 2008 Barron's Educational Series, 2008-07-01. Up to date facts and figures on enrollments, tuition and fees, academic programs, campus environment, available financial aid and much more make the 28th edition of Profiles of American Colleges America's most authoritative data source for college bound high school students, their parents and high school guidance counselors. More than 1,650 accredited four year colleges are profiled. An interactive CD ROM enclosed with the directory guides students to specific schools when they enter details describing their personal academic plans and aptitudes. In addition to the above cited information each college profile gives details on Admission requirements, Library and computer facilities, Admissions procedures for freshmen, Campus safety and security, Thumbnail descriptions of faculty Requirements for a degree, Athletic facilities, Extracurricular activities, E mail addresses, College fax numbers and web sites, Admissions Contacts and much more. Schools are rated according to Barron's well known competitiveness scale from Noncompetitive to Most Competitive. Unlike some other publications Barron's refrains from the unreliable practice of ranking colleges on a first through last basis. The book's tinted pages section presents a quick reference Index of College Majors that lists all available major study programs at each school. Also profiled are many
