Assessing Academic Literacy in a Multilingual Society

Albert Weideman, John Read, Theo du Plessis, 2020-11-02 South African universities face major challenges in meeting the needs of their students in the area of academic language and literacy The dominant medium of instruction in the universities is English and to a much lesser extent Afrikaans but only a minority of the national population are native speakers of these languages Nine other languages can be media of instruction in schools which makes the transition to tertiary education difficult enough in itself for students from these schools The focus of this book is on procedures for assessing the academic language and literacy levels and needs of students not in order to exclude students from higher education but rather to identify those who would benefit from further development of their ability in order to undertake their degree studies successfully The volume also aims to bring the innovative solutions designed by South African educators to a wider international audience

Bibliography of Termite Literature, 1966-1978 Dr. E. Ernst, R. L. Araujo, P. Broughton, 1986 Up to 1965 termite literature was covered by T E Synder's bibliographies produced by the Smithsonian Institution but since his death these have ceased and there has been no one source of information for termitologists. This has now been remedied by Termite Abstracts which began publication in 1980. The present book links the missing years 1966-1978 and contains 3 165 entries covering termite biology, control, distribution and taxonomy. The references are annotated and abstracted to provide as complete a source of information as possible for scientists working overseas without access to good libraries. Termites cause such damage to crops that the book will not only be of use to specialist entomologists but also crop protection and forestry specialists, plant quarantine inspectors and building research technologists The Library Catalogs of the Hoover Institution on War, Revolution, and Peace, Stanford University Hoover Institution on War, Revolution, and Peace, 1969
