A History Of The World In Objects:

A History of the World in 100 Objects Neil MacGregor, 2011-10-06 This book takes a dramatically original approach to the history of humanity using objects which previous civilisations have left behind them often accidentally as prisms through which we can explore past worlds and the lives of the men and women who lived in them The book's range is enormous It begins with one of the earliest surviving objects made by human hands a chopping tool from the Olduvai gorge in Africa and ends with an object from the 21st century which represents the world we live in today Neil MacGregor's aim is not simply to describe these remarkable things but to show us their significance how a stone pillar tells us about a great Indian emperor preaching tolerance to his people how Spanish pieces of eight tell us about the beginning of a global currency or how an early Victorian tea set tells us about the impact of empire Each chapter immerses the reader in a past civilisation accompanied by an exceptionally well informed guide Seen through this lens history is a kaleidoscope shifting interconnected constantly surprising and shaping our world today in ways that most of us have never imagined An intellectual and visual feast it is one of the most engrossing and unusual history books published in years that gave sport not only a name but also a new structure This was a distinctive product of European civilisation which spread across the modern world The 100 objects that are collected here are both material objects and forms of communication which explore the transformation and diversity of sports games and physical education in Europe whether for training performing or as part of other forms of celebration or festivity This book is the first attempt to create a kaleidoscopic history of European sport through its rich material culture and emerged from a desire to develop transnational research in sports history 110 authors from 39 countries have participated in a genuinely pan European project introducing the reader to the fascinating range of people institutions and places which made up the world of modern European sport

Near-Earth Objects Donald K. Yeomans, 2016-11-08 An insider's look at the science of near Earth comets and asteroids Of all the natural disasters that could befall us only an Earth impact by a large comet or asteroid has the potential to end civilization in a single blow Yet these near Earth objects also offer tantalizing clues to our solar system's origins and someday could even serve as stepping stones for space exploration In this book Donald Yeomans introduces readers to the science of near Earth objects its history applications and ongoing quest to find near Earth objects before they find us In its course around the sun the Earth passes through a veritable shooting gallery of millions of nearby comets and asteroids One such asteroid is thought to have plunged into our planet sixty five million years ago triggering a global catastrophe that killed off the dinosaurs Yeomans provides an up to date and accessible guide for understanding the threats posed by near Earth objects and also explains how early collisions with them delivered the ingredients that made life on Earth possible He shows how later impacts spurred evolution allowing only the most adaptable species to thrive in fact we humans may owe our very existence to objects that struck our planet Yeomans takes readers behind the scenes of today's efforts to find track and study near Earth objects He shows how the same comets and asteroids most likely to collide with us could also be mined for precious natural resources like water and oxygen and used as watering holes and fueling stations for expeditions to Mars and the outermost reaches of our solar system Handbook of Digital Public History Serge Noiret, Mark Tebeau, Gerben Zaagsma, 2022-04-04 This handbook provides a systematic overview of the present state of international research in digital public history Individual studies by internationally renowned public historians digital humanists and digital historians elucidate central issues in the field and present a critical account of the major public history accomplishments research activities and practices with the public and of their digital context The handbook applies an international and comparative approach looks at the historical development of the field focuses on technical background and the use of specific digital media and tools Furthermore the handbook analyzes connections with local communities and different publics worldwide when engaging in digital activities with the past indicating directions for future research and teaching activities The Foundations of Belief Arthur James Balfour, 1895
