What's the Least I Can Believe and Still be a Christian? Martin Thielen, 2013-01-01 Pastor and author Martin Thielen has compiled a list of ten things people need to believe and ten things they don't in order to be a Christian This lively and engaging book will be a help to seekers as well as a comfort to believers who may find themselves questioning some of the assumptions they grew up with With an accessible storytelling style that's grounded in solid biblical scholarship Thielen shows how Christians don't need to believe that sinners will be left behind to burn in hell or that it's heresy to believe in evolution And while we must always take the Bible seriously we don't always have to take it literally At the same time Christians do need to believe in Jesus his life his teachings his death and resurrection and his vision for the world A great benefit of those beliefs is that they provide promising answers to life's most profound questions including Where is God What matters most What brings fulfillment What about suffering Is there hope Thielen articulates centrist mainline Christianity in a way that's fresh and easy to understand and offers authentic Christian insights that speak to our deepest needs This new edition includes a leader's guide previously only available online and a new introduction from the author that reflects on the book's reception The leader's guide features unique and easily implemented aids for carrying out a seven week congregation wide initiative that will help local churches reach out to their communities More information is available at thielen.wjkbooks.com

The Born Identity Phil Pringle, Many of us are living with a spiritual kind of amnesia forgetful of who we really are Negative circumstances constantly send us the message that we are far less than what the New Testament declares us to be Often theology has been twisted to conform to the defeated negative thinking of people who are interpreting life and God through their circumstances When we submit to Scripture rather than submit the Scripture to us our identity in Christ comes alive This book is intended to awaken and remind us exactly who we are and what we have in Christ When we enter our battles with clear knowledge of who we are and what we have we will win every time

Faith (6th Edition) Phil Pringle, You are invited on a journey into faith so that you can live a life of faith Author Phil Pringle reminds us of the vital principle that faith is what God responds to Throughout the Scriptures faith is highlighted as the necessary ingredient for a close relationship with God meaningful service for Him and a fulfilling life Let's get started on the
