Martin Lynch Gibson believes he can possess both a beautiful wife and a delightful lover. But when his wife Antonia suddenly leaves him for her psychoanalyst Martin is plunged into an intensive emotional re-education. He attempts to behave beautifully and sensibly. Then he meets a woman whose demonic splendor at first repels him and later arouses a consuming and monstrous passion. Severed Frances Larson, 2014-11-06 Our history is littered with heads. Over the centuries they have decorated our churches, festooned our city walls and filled our museums. They have been props for artists and specimens for laboratory scientists, trophies for soldiers and items of barter. Today as videos of decapitations circulate online and cryonics promise that our heads may one day live on without our bodies, the severed head is as contentious and compelling as ever. From shrunken heads to trophies of war from memento mori to Damien Hirst's With Dead Head from grave robbing phrenologists to enterprising scientists, Larson explores the bizarre, often gruesome and confounding history of the severed head. Its story is our story. The Severed Head Julia Kristeva, 2012 Julia Kristeva turns her famed critical eye to a study of the human head as symbol and metaphor as religious object and physical fact, further developing a critical theme in her work the power of horror and expanding the potential for the face to provide an experience of the sacred. Kristeva's study stretches far back in time to 6 000 B.C.E. with humans early decoration and worship of skulls and follows with an examination of the Medusa myth, the mandylion of Laon, a holy relic in which the face of a saint appears on a piece of cloth, the biblical stories of John the Baptist and Salome, tales of the guillotine, modern murder mysteries and the rhetoric surrounding the fight for and against capital punishment. Drawing numerous connections between these capital visions and their experience, Kristeva affirms the possibility of the sacred even in an era of faceless interaction. A Severed Head Iris Murdoch, John Boynton Priestley, 1964 Presents an incestuous web of sexual relationships in a corrupt middle class society. Assembly of the Severed Head Hugh Lupton, 2018-06 A Severed Head, A Severed Head Val May, Royale
