316 Mining Facebook Data Usage:

Technological Convergence and Social Networks in Information Management Serap Kurbanoglu, Umut Al, Phyllis Lepon Erdogan, Yasar Tonta, Nazan Ucak, 2010-09-10 Convergence is defined as the intertwinement of species or technologies. Technological convergence on the other hand refers to a trend where a single product such as a cell phone used in the past solely for communication evolves into a product that functions not only as a communication device but incorporates the distinct functionalities of a number of other technologies thereby enabling users to take pictures, listen to music, access the Web, send and receive e-mail messages, find their way, and so on, equally successfully. Social networks such as Facebook, YouTube, MySpace, and LinkedIn, where users congregate, discuss certain issues, entertain themselves, and share information in t tual audio and video formats, are among the most frequented web sites. Social networks having Web 2.0 features offer personalized services allowing users to incorporate their own content easily and describe, organize, and share it with others, thereby enriching users' experience. More often than not, a capable cell phone is all you need to get access to such social networks and carry out all those tasks. Such tools tend to change our private social and professional lives and blur the boundaries among them. In other words, our private social and professional lives are converging too. Someone using a cell phone could be communicating with his/her friends, accessing information services, taking an exam, using a learning management system, or conducting business.

Web Engineering Maria Bielikova, Tommi Mikkonen, Cesare Pautasso, 2020-06-09 This book constitutes the proceedings of the 20th International Conference on Web Engineering (ICWE 2020) which was planned to take place in Helsinki, Finland, during June 9-12, 2020. Due to the corona pandemic, the conference changed to a virtual format. The total of 24 full and 10 short contributions presented in this volume were carefully reviewed and selected from 78 submissions. The book also contains 4 PhD and 7 demo papers. The papers were organized in topical sections named: User interface technologies, performance of Web technologies, machine learning, testing of Web applications, emotion detection, location-aware applications, sentiment analysis, open data, liquid Web applications, Web-based learning, PhD symposium, demos, and posters.

Social Networking and Education Tomayess Issa, Pedro Isaias, Piet Kommers, 2015-10-03 The present work is intended to assist academics, researchers, and proponents of online learning and teaching. Academics will be able to share the findings presented in this book and the Social Networking and Education Model (SNEM) with their students, i.e., Masters and PhD. It is envisaged that this book will assist researchers and anyone interested in online learning to understand the opportunities and risks associated with the use of Social Networking in the education sector and assist them to implement SN by means of the new SNEM model. The reader will benefit from our examinations of the risks and opportunities associated with the use of Social Networking in the education sector in various regions around the world: Asia, Pacific, Europe, Mediterranean, America, Middle East, and the Caribbean. In addition, a Social Networking and Education Model (SNEM) will be developed to promote and implement Social Networking in the education sector.

Facebook Security Breach. Security Risk Analysis and Recommendation Oluwagbenga Afolabi, 2018-06-01 Seminar paper from the year 2018 in the subject Communications Multimedia Internet New Technologies grade 100 00 Saint Leo University language English abstract Facebook has revolutionized the way people End users communicate with peers and close relatives these users share personal information with Facebook The platform in turn uses these users information to match them with other users who share similarities in information through algorithms The primary focus of this paper is on the security implications of users sharing their personal information on Facebook Additionally we will examine the recent data security breach on Facebook involving Cambridge analytical and its implication for Facebook and other data mining entities The analysis will examine the loophole exploited by third party apps to gain elevated access to users and sub user data We also want to establish if Facebook is taken appropriate steps to safeguard user information by following the federal trade commission guidelines in protecting user information Usage Rates, Facebook Likes, and Online Piracy Hannes Datta, 2014 The rapid digitization of the entertainment industry urges managers to find new ways to improve marketing effectiveness and combat online piracy Smart devices and innovative online services generate brand related tracking data that reflect consumers brand engagement e.g digital usage rates Facebook Likes yet managers are unaware of how to use these big data to improve brand performance We therefore propose a model to assess how digitally tracked engagement behaviors namely consumer brand usage CBU measured by digital usage rates and consumer brand endorsement CBE measured by Facebook Likes drive the impact of promotion and new product releases and affect the role of piracy We apply our framework to the U.S music industry and develop web scrapers and API mining scripts to collect data for 569 music artists over 66 weeks Both CBU and CBE enhance marketing effectiveness and positively mediate the sales impact of piracy thereby offsetting piracy's cannibalization effect by 55% However CBU exerts a systematically stronger influence in these relationships than CBE Using simulations we show how our findings can help managers to improve the allocation of their marketing efforts across brands and reduce the detrimental sales impact of piracy The Study of Data Mining
