1980 Crime Report In Phoenix:

Desert Visions and the Making of Phoenix, 1860-2009 Philip VanderMeer, 2010-12-16 Whether touted for its burgeoning economy affordable housing and pleasant living style or criticized for being less like a city than a sprawling suburb Phoenix by all environmental logic should not exist Yet despite its extremely hot and dry climate and its remoteness Phoenix has grown into a massive metropolitan area This exhaustive study examines the history of how Phoenix came into being and how it has sustained itself from its origins in the 1860s to its present status as the nation s fifth largest city From the beginning Phoenix sought to grow and although growth has remained central to the city s history its importance meaning and value have changed substantially over the years The initial vision of Phoenix as an American Eden gave way to the Cold War Era vision of a High Tech Suburbia which in turn gave way to rising concerns in the late twentieth century about the environmental social and political costs of growth To understand how such unusual growth occurred in such an improbable location Philip VanderMeer explores five major themes the natural environment urban infrastructure economic development social and cultural values and public leadership Through investigating Phoenix s struggle to become a major American metropolis his study also offers a unique view of what it means to be a desert city International Journal of Comparative and Applied Criminal Justice ,2001 Monthly Checklist of State Publications Library of Congress. Exchange and Gift Division,1984 National Union Catalog, 1981 Library of Congress,1982 The Fear of Crime Jason Ditton,Stephen Farrall,2017-07-05 Studies of the fear of crime have constituted what is undeniably the fastest growing research area within criminology in the last decade and this shows no sign of diminishing The editors have a distinguished record of innovative research in the field being responsible for a number of seminal empirical and theoretical articles In this volume they have collected together and for the first time all the most significant contributions to the field The collection includes an introductory essay by the editors and articles reflecting an overview of the field the causes of vulnerability the sources of information on victimisation the methods used to survey fear the theoretical models employed to explain it and the nature of policies designed to reduce fear Journal of Crime & Justice ,1987 Crime and Criminology Jay Livingston,1996 Known for its engaging and accessible writing style this probing text covers the traditional areas of criminology but also addresses questions of popular concern and policy debate using systematic evidence to explore such topics as deterrence and incapacitation race and social class the rights of the accused and domestic violence Challenging readers to think about even the most obvious and commonsense ideas in terms of the evidence that might support or contradict it the text delves even deeper encouraging them to see the connection between abstract theoretical propositions and the reality they see everyday in their own lives and in the media Using a highly perceptive lively and absorbing writing style to make serious ideas and evidence easily understandable to a wide range of readers the book integrates interesting boxes throughout to bring experientially distant ideas closer and make concepts more relevant On Campus Boxes highlight crime and other topical issues as they relate to campus life and Crime in the News Boxes take items from newspapers to illustrate ideas and provide models for discussing current cases and issues Reviewer Richard Wright from the University of Scranton says the text offers insightful typologies of crime presenting a superb comparison of the interactionist a cultural and structural explanation of homicide a first rate discussion of felony murder and exemplary sections on bookmaking and loansharks Features new to this edition include an increased number of graphs and tables to help readers get a better grasp of quantitative data chapter key terms chapter outlines and a thorough end of book glossary for better understanding and lucid discussions on Hirschi and Gottfredson s self control theory community policing and date rape For sociologist and criminologists Subject Catalog, 1981 Library of Congress,1981 Monthly Checklist of Publications (excluding Periodicals) of the State of Arizona Received by the Arizona Department of Library, Archives and Public Records ...
