Gerontological Nursing and Healthy Aging in Canada E-Book Veronique Boscart, Lynn McCleary, Linda Sheiban Taucar, Theris A. Touhy, Kathleen F Jett, 2022-02-02 Gain the knowledge and skills you need to care for older adults in Canada Ebersole and Hess Gerontological Nursing Healthy Aging in Canada 3rd Edition uses a wellness based holistic approach to older adult care from a distinctly Canadian perspective Designed to promote healthy aging regardless of the patient's situation or disorder this book provides best practice guidelines to help you identify potential problems address complications and alleviate discomfort An Evolve website includes new Next Generation NCLEX style case studies and PN competencies case studies to enhance your skills in clinical judgement Written by a team of gerontological nursing experts led by Veronique Boscart this concise guide covers health care in the context of the cultural and socio economic issues unique to Canada Core competencies identified by the CGNA are integrated throughout the book reinforcing the standards of the Canadian Gerontological Nursing Association Assessment guidelines and tools are featured in tables boxes and forms including the latest scales and guidelines for proper health assessment Focus on health and wellness highlights all aspects of the aging process Attention to age cultural and gender differences helps you care for different population groups Evidence informed Practice boxes summarize research findings and identify those practices with unknown ineffective or harmful effects and examine topics such as culturally safe health initiatives for Indigenous Peoples lifelong learning and its effects on the wellbeing of older adults challenges in home care and long term care homes and improving outcomes and improving outcomes for seniors living with a stroke or dementia Activities and discussion questions at the end of every chapter help you understand the material and apply concepts in clinical situations Shifting Food Facts Alissa Overend, 2020-11-15 This book offers a much needed reframing of food discourse by presenting alternative ways of thinking about the changing politics of food eating and nutrition It examines critical epistemological questions of how food knowledge comes to be shaped and why we see pendulum swings when it comes to the question of what to eat As food facts peak and peril in the face of conflicting dietary advice and nutritional evidence this book situates shifting food truths through a critical analysis of how healthy eating is framed and contested particularly amid fluctuating truth claims of a post truth culture It explores what a post truth epistemological framework can offer critical food and health studies considers the type of questions this may enable and looks at what can be gained by relinquishing rigid empirical pursuits of singular dietary truths In focusing too intently on the separation between food fact and food fiction the book argues that politically dangerous and epistemically narrow ideas of one way to eat healthy or right are perpetuated Drawing on a range of archival materials related to food and health and interviews with registered dietitians this book offers various examples of shifting food truths from macro historical genealogies to contemporary case studies of dairy wheat and meat Providing a rich and innovative analysis this book offers news ways to think about and act upon our increasingly complex food landscapes It does so by loosening our empirical Western reliance on singular food facts in favour of an articulation of contextual food truths that situate the problems of health as problems of living not as individualistic problems of eating It will be of interest to students scholars and practitioners working in food studies food politics sociology environmental geography health nutrition and cultural studies
