Agric Paper 2014:

2017 The State of Food and Agriculture Food and Agriculture Organization of the United Nations, 2018-04-04 One of the greatest challenges today is to end hunger and poverty while making agriculture and food systems sustainable The challenge is daunting because of continued population growth profound changes in food demand and the threat of mass migration of rural youth in search of a better life This report presents strategies that can leverage the potential of food systems to become the engine of inclusive economic development and rural prosperity in low income countries It analyses the structural and rural transformations now under way and examines the opportunities and challenges they present to millions of small scale food producers It shows how an agroterritorial planning approach focused on connecting cities and towns and their surrounding rural areas combined with agro industrial and infrastructure development can generate income opportunities throughout the food sector and underpin sustainable and inclusive rural transformation Push Button Agriculture K. R. Krishna, 2017-03-16 This book covers three main types of agricultural systems the use of robotics drones unmanned aerial vehicles and satellite guided precision farming methods Some of these are well refined and are currently in use while others are in need of refinement and are yet to become popular The book provides a valuable source of information on this developing field for those involved with agriculture and farming and agricultural engineering The book is also applicable as a textbook for students and a reference for faculty OECD Food and Agricultural Reviews Innovation, Agricultural Productivity and Sustainability in Sweden OECD, 2018-06-08 Agricultural innovation in Sweden has sought to improve the competitiveness and sustainability of the agri food sector by ensuring a high level of environmental and animal welfare standards while raising the productivity and financial viability of farms Sustainable Agriculture Reviews Eric Lichtfouse, 2016-02-19 This book features articles that analyze current agricultural issues and knowledge It also proposes novel environmentally friendly solutions that are based on integrated information from such fields as agronomy soil science molecular biology chemistry toxicology ecology economics and the social sciences Coverage examines ways to produce food and energy in a sustainable way for humans and their children Inside readers will find articles that explore climate change increasing food and fuel prices poor nation starvation rich nation obesity water pollution soil erosion fertility loss pest control and biodiversity depletion Instead of solving problems using the classical painkiller approach which seeks to limit negative impacts sustainable agriculture treats challenges at their source Because most societal issues are in fact intertwined global and fast developing sustainable agriculture will bring solutions that have the potential to build a more peaceful world This book will help scientists decision makers professors farmers and politicians build safer agriculture energy and food systems for future generations The State of Food and Agriculture 2017 Food and Agriculture Organization, 2017-11-10 One of the greatest challenges today is to end hunger and poverty while making agriculture and food systems sustainable The challenge is daunting because of continued population growth profound changes in food demand and the threat of mass migration of rural youth in search of a better life This report presents strategies that can leverage the potential of food systems to become the engine of inclusive economic development and rural prosperity in low income countries It analyses the structural and rural transformations now under way and examines the opportunities and challenges they present to millions of small scale food producers It shows how an agroterritorial planning approach focused on connecting cities and towns and their surrounding rural areas combined with agro industrial and infrastructure development can generate income opportunities throughout the food sector and underpin sustainable and inclusive rural transformation

Advances in Conservation Agriculture Volume 1 Prof Amir Kassam,2020-01-21 Reviews the development of CA systems globally and elaborates on science underlying the key CA system components Assesses the latest evidence on improving soil and crop health and CA system resilience through the application of the core CA system principles Includes case studies reviewing current science on optimising CA cropping systems involving cereal legume horticultural and tree crops as well as integrating livestock in CA systems

The Potato Crop Hugo Campos,Oscar Ortiz,2019-12-03 This book is open access under a CC BY 4.0 license This book provides a fresh updated and science based perspective on the current status and prospects of the diverse array of topics related to the potato and was written by distinguished scientists with hands on global experience in research aspects related to potato The potato is the third most important global food crop in terms of consumption Being the only vegetatively propagated species among the world's main five staple crops creates both issues and opportunities for the potato on the one hand this constrains the speed of its geographic expansion and its options for international commercialization and distribution when compared with commodity crops such as maize wheat or rice On the other it provides an effective insulation against speculation and unforeseen spikes in commodity prices since the potato does not represent a good traded on global markets These two factors highlight the underappreciated and underrated role of the potato as a dependable nutrition security crop one that can mitigate turmoil in world food supply and demand and political instability in some developing countries Increasingly the global role of the potato has expanded from a profitable crop in developing countries to a crop providing income and nutrition security in developing ones This book will appeal to academics and students of crop sciences but also policy makers and other stakeholders involved in the potato and its contribution to humankind's food security

Sustainable Intensification of Agriculture Jules Pretty,Zareen Pervez Bharucha,2018-06-14 Sustainable intensification SI has emerged in recent years as a powerful new conceptualisation of agricultural sustainability and has been widely adopted in policy circles and debates It is defined as a process or system where yields are increased without adverse environmental impact and without the cultivation of more land Co written by Jules Pretty one of the pioneers of the concept and internationally known and respected authority on sustainable agriculture this book sets out current thinking and debates around sustainable agriculture and intensification It recognises that world population is increasing rapidly so that yields must increase on finite land and other resources to maintain food security It provides the first widely accessible overview of the concept of SI as an innovative approach to agriculture and as a key element in the transition to a green economy It presents evidence from around the world to show how various innovations are improving yields resilience and farm incomes particularly for resource constrained smallholders in developing countries but also in the developed world It shows how SI is a fundamental departure from previous models of agricultural intensification It also highlights the particular role and potential of small scale farmers and the fundamental importance of social and human capital in designing and spreading effective innovations

Research Roadmap for Advancing Technologies in California's Industrial, Agriculture and Water Sectors Sabine Brueske, Energetics, Inc, 2019 Asian Journal of Agriculture and Development ,2018-06 Special Issues in Agriculture Eliseo R. Vulnerability of farmer's livelihood to climate variability induced hazards in Siraro District, West Arsi Zone, Oromia, Regional State, Ethiopia Jarso Wakeyo Uta, 2019-05-08 Master s Thesis from the year 2016 in the subject Agrarian Studies grade Very Good course Population and Socioeconomic Development Planning language English abstract Most previous studies on vulnerability of smallholder farmer s livelihood to climatic hazards had focused on large scale global regional or national levels In addition they gave more focuses to assessment of impacts of climatic hazards to farmers than assessment of farmer s vulnerability to climatic hazards Thus this study was designed to bridge this gap by assessing vulnerability of farmer s livelihood at household level measured as perceived sensitivity and lack of adaptive capacity to climatic hazards and by exploring sets of socioeconomic indicators that significantly determine vulnerability of farmers livelihoods Cross sectional data was collected through household survey from 379 randomly selected respondents which were also complemented with qualitative assessments Principal component analysis was used to identify major socioeconomic indicators that contribute to vulnerability of farmer s livelihood using orthogonal axis rotation in SPSS version 20 Binary logit model was used to identify principal socioeconomic indicators that significantly influence sensitivity and adaptive capacity of livelihoods of sampled farmers The findings revealed that households that are heterogeneous in location of residence sources of income ownership to animals have significant influence on perceived sensitivity of farmers to climatic hazards However socioeconomic indicators such as age gender family size have insignificant influence on sensitivity of farmer s livelihood to climatic hazards Gender marital status educational status of household head coping mechanisms like grain cash saving NRM practices has significant influence on perceived adaptive capacity of farmers Yet access to social interconnectedness such as idir or iqub family relatives and cost of drinking water has insignificant influence on perceived adaptive capacity of farmers Currently 59% 38% and 3% of sampled farmers have overall vulnerability status of low moderate and high respectively The overall conclusion is that differences in status of vulnerability of their livelihoods are attributed to differences in their present socioeconomic attributes Community should strengthen existing hazard coping mechanisms whilst GOs and NGOs should support farmers in diversification of income sources and restocking of animals

Active community engagement in planning and execution of disaster risk reduction strategies and practices is also indispensable
