Changing Times ,2013

Environmental Water Markets and Regulation Katherine Owens,2016-11-18 River systems around the world are degraded and are being used unsustainably Meeting this challenge requires the development of flexible regimes that have the potential to meet essential consumptive needs while restoring environmental flows This book focuses on how water trading frameworks can be repurposed for environmental water recovery and aims to conceptualise the most appropriate role for law in supporting recovery through these frameworks The author presents a comprehensive study of the legal frameworks in four jurisdictions the States of Oregon and Colorado in the western United States the province of Alberta in Canada and the Murray Darling Basin in Australia Basin State of New South Wales A close comparative analysis of these four jurisdictions reveals a variety of distinctive regulatory arrangements and collaborations between public and private actors In all cases the law has been deployed to steer and coordinate these water governance activities The book argues that each regime is based on a particular regulatory strategy with different conceptions of the appropriate roles for and relationships between various actors and institutions Legal frameworks do not have the capacity to rationalise and provide an overarching and absolute solution to the complex environmental and governance issues that arise in the context of environmental water transactions

Rather the role of law in this context needs to be reconceptualised within the paradigm of regulatory capitalism as establishing and maintaining the limits within which regulatory participants can operate innovate and collaborate

Trade Liberalisation and Economic Development in Africa Gift Mugano, 2021-09-30 This book provides a thorough and rigorous discussion on the impact of trade liberalisation on economic development with a special focus on the African continent The author presents the rationale for trade liberalisation trade liberalisation frameworks the trade liberalisation economic development nexus impediments to trade and contemporary issues of international trade In this book notwithstanding the benefits from trade liberalisation the author shows that African trade as a share of global trade has remained flat at 3% as in 1975 while the continent's exports have remained raw materials and its intra regional trade at less than 15% of total trade which is the lowest in the world UNCTAD 2020 With respect to key economic development indicators such as economic growth poverty levels and employment levels this book shows that ironically and in direct contrast with the conventional views that trade liberalisation alleviates poverty trade liberalisation in Africa has resulted in high levels of unemployment and low economic growth which ultimately lead to increased poverty In addition this book provides a detailed analysis of why trade liberalisation has failed to yield meaningful benefits to Africa The binding constraints and blockages which prevent positive spin offs on trade liberalisation in Africa are discussed in detail in this book In the same vein the author provides practical strategies which must be adopted by African countries in order to gain from trade liberalisation making this work a must read for African governments academia trade experts regional trading blocs the World Trade Organization and development partners In view of this and as part of the disruptive and structural transformation policies the author discusses case studies and international experience contextualised to Africa as well as strategies for addressing the trade related infrastructure gap production capacities export promotion and aid for trade

A Global Assessment of Offshore Mariculture Potential from a Spatial

Perspective James M. Kapetsky, José Aguilar-Manjarrez, Jeff Jenness, Food and Agriculture Organization of the United Nations, 2013 This publication was produced in recognition that there is a growing need to increasingly transfer land based coastal aquaculture production systems further offshore as a result of the expected increases in human population competition for access to land and clean water needed to increase the availability of fish and fishery products much needed for human consumption It provides for the first time measures of the status and potential for offshore mariculture development from a spatial perspective that are comprehensive of all maritime nations and comparable among them It also identifies nations that are not yet practicing mariculture that have a high offshore potential The underlying purpose of this document is to stimulate interest for detailed assessments of offshore mariculture potential at national levels
