Vitalism and Its Legacy in Twentieth Century Life Sciences and Philosophy Christopher Donohue, Charles T. Wolfe, 2023-01-02 This Open Access book combines philosophical and historical analysis of various forms of alternatives to mechanism and mechanistic explanation focusing on the 19th century to the present. It addresses vitalism, organicism and responses to materialism and its relevance to current biological science. In doing so it promotes dialogue and discussion about the historical and philosophical importance of vitalism and other non mechanistic conceptions of life. It points towards the integration of genomic science into the broader history of biology. It details a broad engagement with a variety of nineteenth twentieth and twenty first century vitalisms and conceptions of life. In addition it discusses important threads in the history of concepts in the United States and Europe including charting new reception histories in eastern and south eastern Europe. While vitalism, organicism and similar epistemologies are often the concern of specialists in the history and philosophy of biology and of historians of ideas the range of the contributions as well as the geographical and temporal scope of the volume allows for it to appeal to the historian of science and the historian of biology generally

Towards Sustainable Development Goal of Zero Hunger: Exploring the Dynamic Relationships between Food Pricing, Agriculture, and Food Security Noshaba Aziz, Wioletta Żukiewicz-Sobczak, Ruishi Si, 2025-10-16 United Nations

Sustainable Development Goal SDG 2 aspires to eradicate hunger by 2030 emphasizing the intricate relationships between agriculture, food security and nutrition. However this noble pursuit faces formidable challenges in emerging countries due to a confluence of international disruptions. Climate change, the COVID 19 pandemic and geopolitical conflicts like the war in Ukraine have triggered sharp spikes in commodity prices amplifying food security concerns particularly in developing nations. The Food and Agriculture Organization of the United Nations recently reported the highest global food price increase since the 1990s in March. This commodity price inflation in turn reverberates across agriculture impacting not only a nation's economy but also its food production capacity. Elevated commodity prices drive up the costs of agricultural inputs such as fertilizers, pesticides and fuel compelling farmers to pass these expenses on to consumers in the form of higher food prices. Moreover, country specific economic factors within the agricultural sector including land ownership, technology adoption, farming practices and infrastructure further complicate the food security landscape. Therefore the intricate interplay between commodity price inflation agriculture and food security is significantly influenced by a nation's unique economic dynamics within its agricultural sector Effectively addressing these challenges necessitates a blend of international and domestic policy measures to ensure that the benefits of agricultural progress reach the broader population
