Agriculture Caps P1:

Greening the Common Agricultural Policy Great Britain. Parliament. House of Commons. Environment, Food and Rural Affairs Committee, 2012 The European Commission proposes that 30% of direct payments made to farmers under the Common Agricultural Policy CAP would be conditional on compliance with three new greening measures While supporting the Commission's desire to improve the environment the EFRA Committee rejects the approach proposed Instead it calls for the EU to set high level objectives for the CAP that provide for flexibility to apply the right measures for local conditions through decentralising environmental protection under the CAP to Member States This report highlights the huge benefit that UK agri environment schemes have brought to biodiversity food production and the countryside The Committee also urged Defra to ensure that the UK's tenant farmers should not be excluded from these schemes The Committee concludes that Defra must ensure the balance of funding between mandatory and voluntary aspects of the CAP should not leave UK farmers at a competitive disadvantage relative to their counterparts in the rest of Europe MPs also warn that measures proposed by the Commission would be even more complex than the current system adding costly bureaucracy and generating more errors in the system Likewise the committee concludes that the Commission's crop diversification measure would in the UK have perverse consequences that are far less environmentally beneficial than crop rotation Of the three greening measures offered the Commission's proposal for Ecological Focus Areas EFA has the potential to deliver the greatest environmental benefit However the lack of definitions within the proposals make it difficult to assess what if any such benefits would actually be delivered Evaluation of Agricultural Policy Reforms in the European Union The Common Agricultural Policy 2014-20 OECD, 2017-07-27 The Common Agricultural Policy CAP is the primary agricultural policy instrument of the European Union This report focuses on the new features and institutional context of the current CAP 2014-20 adopted by the European Parliament and the European Council in December 2013 European Access, 1999 The Economics of the Common Agricultural Policy (CAP). Commission of the European Communities. Directorate-General for Economic and Financial Affairs, 1994 The Common Agricultural Policy after 2013 Great Britain: Parliament: House of Commons: Environment, Food and Rural Affairs Committee, 2011-04-15 The Environment Food and Rural Affairs Committee criticises the European Commission's proposed sweeping reforms of the CAP that would see the current complex and bureaucratic system of direct payments replaced by one that could be even worse These changes include a new tier of environmental conditions with penalties for farm businesses that do not comply or fail to meet new criteria for active farmers farm size and number of employees The Committee sets out the key principles the UK government should promote The first objective of the CAP should be to maintain and enhance the EU's capacity to produce food with a significant degree of self sufficiency and in the long term less reliance on income support from the tax payer The UK's future food security is threatened by the low profitability of its agriculture More than half of UK farm businesses would be unprofitable without the support they receive through the CAP The Committee concludes that direct payments have a place within the CAP for as long as business conditions in agriculture fail to deliver a thriving and profitable industry The CAP must deliver a competitive and viable agricultural sector that produces safe and high quality food with a lower environmental impact The UK should press for the EU to argue more strongly for recognition of environmental and animal welfare production standards within trade agreements The committee also warns that the EU proposal for a multi tiered single farm payment will require expensive new computer systems and auditing European Economy ,1994 Journal of Agricultural Economics Research ,1991
