Stone Tools and Fossil Bones Manuel Domínguez-Rodrigo, 2012-03-26 International archaeologists examine early Stone Age tools and bones to present the most holistic view to date of the archaeology of human origins Interdisciplinary Approaches to the Oldowan Erella Hovers, David R. Braun, 2009-03-08 An understanding of the uniquely human behavior of stone tool making tackles questions about hominins ability to culturally transmit and expand their base of social and practical knowledge and their cognitive capacities for advanced planning The appearance of stone tools has often been viewed as a threshold event impacting directly and profoundly the later course of cultural and social evolution Alternatively it has been understood as a prelude to significant succeeding changes in behavioral social and biological evolution of hominins This book presents a series of recent enquiries into the technological and adaptive significance of Oldowan stone tools While anchored in a long research tradition these studies rely on recent discoveries and innovative analyses of the archaeological record of ca 2 6 1 0 million years ago in Africa and Eurasia dealing with the earliest lithic industries as manifestations of hominin adaptations and as expressions of hominin cognitive abilities The Trace-Fossil Record of Major Evolutionary Events M. Gabriela Mángano, Luis A. Buatois, 2016-11-17 This volume addresses major evolutionary changes that took place during the Mesozoic and the Cenozoic These include discussions on major evolutionary radiations and ecological innovations on land and at sea such as the Mesozoic marine revolution the Mesozoic radiation of vertebrates the Mesozoic lacustrine revolution the Cenozoic radiation of mammals the evolution of paleosol biotas and the evolution of hominins The roles of mass extinctions at the end of the Triassic and at the end of the Cretaceous are assessed This volume set provides innovative reviews of the major evolutionary events in the history of life from an ichnologic perspective Because the long temporal range of trace fossils has been commonly emphasized biogenic structures have been traditionally overlooked in macroevolution However comparisons of ichnofaunas through geologic time do reveal the changing ecology of organism substrate interactions The use of trace fossils in evolutionary paleoecology represents a new trend that is opening a window for our understanding of major evolutionary radiations and mass extinctions Trace fossils provide crucial evidence for the recognition of spatial and temporal patterns and processes associated with paleoecologic breakthroughs Mark Lane Express ,1891 International Medieval Bibliography ,2008 Lists articles notes and similar literature on medieval subjects in journals Festschriften conference proceedings and collected essays Covers all aspects of medieval studies within the date range of 450 to 1500 for the entire continent of Europe the Middle East and North Africa for the period before the Muslim conquest and parts of those areas subsequently controlled by Christian powers Somerset Archaeology and Natural History Somerset Archaeological and Natural History Society, 2008 The Mining Industry and Review ,1896 Borderlands Shane Delaney, 2012 The Country Gentleman ,1900 The Builder ,1894 Geological Investigations for the Wash Water Storage Scheme Ramus William Gallois, 1979 Gramophone Compton

s church but occupation of an urban nature did not recommence until the late 9th century with the first phases of Anglo Scandinavian occupation recorded here Sequences of increasingly intensive occupation from the 10th century were identified with plentiful evidence for industrial activity including pottery metalworking and other crafts as well as parish churches Markets were established in the 11th century and stone began to replace timber for residential structures from the mid 12th century with clear evidence of the quality of some of the houses With the decline in the city s fortunes from the late 13th century the fringe sites became depopulated and there was much rebuilding elsewhere including some fine new houses There was a further revival in the later post medieval period but much of the earlier fabric and surviving stretches of Roman city wall were swept away in the 19th century
