- ☐ A. Whole number ☐ B. Rational number ☒ C. Decimal ☐ D. Percentage

Answer: B -  $\frac{1}{2}$  is a rational number. A fraction is a rational number in regards to  $a/b$  if  $a$  and  $b$  are both positive integers and  $b$  is not equal to 0. Whole numbers, mixed numbers, and decimals are also rational numbers.

Answer: C - The doubling method would be  $3 + 4 = (3 + 3) + 1 = 6 + 1 = 7$ . Using the doubling method of informal counting involves taking apart a number so that it is the same number as the one being added to it and then adding the difference. It is a way to do mental math easily in one's head.

Mathematical Reasoning and Heuristics Carlo Cellucci, Donald Gillies, 2005 This volume is a collection of papers on philosophy of mathematics which deal with a series of questions quite different from those which occupied the minds of the proponents of the three classic schools logicism formalism and intuitionism The questions of the volume are not to do with justification in the traditional sense but with a variety of other topics Some are concerned with discovery and the growth of mathematics How does the semantics of mathematics change as the subject develops What heuristics are involved in mathematical discovery and do such heuristics constitute a logic of mathematical discovery What new problems have been introduced by the development of mathematics since the 1930s Other questions are concerned with the applications of mathematics both to physics and to the new field of computer science Then there is the new question of whether the axiomatic method is really so essential to mathematics as is often supposed and the question which goes back to Wittgenstein of the sense in which mathematical proofs are compelling Taking these questions together they give part of an emerging agenda which is likely to carry philosophy of mathematics forward into the twenty first century Practice for Army Placement Tests Eve P.
