Design Patterns for e-Science Henry Gardner, Gabriele Manduchi, 2007-05-03 This is a book about a code and about coding The code is a case study which has been used to teach courses in e Science at the Australian National University since 2001 Students learn advanced programming skills and techniques TM in the Java language Above all they learn to apply useful object oriented design patterns as they progressively refactor and enhance the software We think our case study EScope is as close to real life as you can get It is a smaller version of a networked graphical waveform browser which is used in the control rooms of fusion energy experiments around the world It is quintessential e Science in the sense of e Science being computer science and information technology in the service of science It is not specifically Grid enabled but we develop it in a way that will facilitate its deployment onto the Grid The standard version of EScope interfaces with a specialised database for waveforms and related data known as MDSplus On the accompanying CD we have provided you with software which will enable you to install MDSplus EScope and sample data files onto Windows or Linux computers There is much additional software including many versions of the case study as it gets built up and progressively refactored using design patterns There will be a home web site for this book which will contain up to date information about the software and other aspects of the case study

E-science i Tm (science and Technology)' 2003 Ed. , Remote Instrumentation and Virtual Laboratories Franco Davoli, Norbert Meyer, Roberto Pugliese, Sandro Zappatore, 2010-03-10 Accessing remote instrumentation worldwide is one of the goals of e Science The task of enabling the execution of complex experiments that involve the use of distributed scientific instruments must be supported by a number of different architectural domains which inter work in a coordinated fashion to provide the necessary functionality These domains embrace the physical instruments the communication network interconnecting the distributed systems the service oriented abstractions and their middleware The Grid paradigm or more generally the Service Oriented Architecture SOA viewed as a tool for the integration of distributed resources plays a significant role not only to manage computational aspects but increasingly as an aggregator of measurement instrumentation and pervasive large scale data acquisition platforms In this context the functionality of a SOA allows managing maintaining and exploiting heterogeneous instrumentation and acquisition devices in a unified way by providing standardized interfaces and common working environments to their users but the peculiar aspects of dealing with real instruments of widely different categories may add new functional requirements to this scenario On the other hand the growing transport capacity of core and access networks allows data transfer at unprecedented speed but new challenges arise from wireless access wireless sensor networks and the traversal of heterogeneous network domains The book focuses on all aspects related to the effective exploitation of remote instrumentation and to the building complex virtual laboratories on top of real devices and infrastructures These include SOA and related middleware high speed networking in support of Grid applications wireless Grids for acquisition devices and sensor networks Quality of Service QoS provisioning for real time control measurement instrumentation and methodology as well as metrology issues in distributed systems New Infrastructures for Knowledge Production Christine Hine,2006-01-01 This book is offers an overview of the practices and the technologies that are shaping the knowledge production of the future Provided by publisher China's e-Science Blue Book 2023 Chinese Academy of Sciences,Ministry of Education of the PRC,Ministry of Science and Technology PRC,China Association for Science Technology,Chinese Academy of Social Sciences,Chinese Academy of Engineering,National Natural Science FoundationChina,Chinese Academy of Agricultural Sciences,2024-03-23 This series of books is a result of collaboration between the Chinese Academy of Sciences and relevant national departments This book provides a comprehensive summary and analysis of the current state and future trends of e Science in China with a focus on strategic developments application practices and infrastructure construction This book showcases the recent progress achievements and new situations in China s e Science in the past two years and offer detailed cases for reference The content is rich and offers valuable insights for the future development of research informatization
