The adnominal area has multiple vital organs such as the kidneys, the intestines, the stomach, and the appendix that can get infected and lead to various diseases. The scenario of the seventy-year-old Caucasian female involves the organs in the lower right quadrant of her abdomen, and the symptoms the woman is experiencing could be associated with various diseases. The most probable diagnosis for the woman is appendicitis, but other ailments could be likely diagnoses. To design the best treatment plan, it is essential to understand the data required to make an accurate diagnosis for the old woman's condition and the elimination of other likely diagnoses to decide on Appendicitis as the most accurate.

The senior woman has a medical history of hypertension, diabetes mellitus, obesity, and arthritis in her knee. Due to her prevailing medical conditions, the lady consumes PRN drugs to control some of her symptoms and to avoid complications. Moore, 2016-03-15 Clinical Decision Making for Adult Gerontology Primary Care Nurse Practitioners provides a systematic approach to clinical decision making for a wide variety of commonly encountered primary care issues in adult and geriatric practice. The goal of this text is to enable students to learn a systematic approach to clinical problems and use evidence-based guidelines to direct their management decisions. Designed for both the student and the newly practicing NP, this text serves as a guide to increase the practitioner's confidence with the application of assessment skills, diagnostic choices, and management approaches. Throughout the text, students will find guidelines for the adult gerontology nurse practitioner role as well as real-life case studies that demonstrate what an NP may encounter in the clinical practice environment.
