Hoke,1990-03-02     Ingenious Yankees Donald Hoke,1986     Florentine Ariosto Jones: A Yankee in Switzerland and the Early Globalization of the American System of Watchmaking Frank Jacob,2021-09-07 This book recounts the story of Florentine Ariosto Jones who after the Civil War decided to manufacture watches Combining the cheap labor available at the time in Switzerland with US manufacturing technologies Jones embarked on his venture to produce affordable watches for the American market Consequently he became a pioneer in the business of outsourcing labor for economic purposes through his contracting of labor to Europe While the company still exists today very little is known about Jones The present book will undoubtedly change this by telling the fascinating story of an American adventurer and his pursuit to globalize American watchmaking at the end of the 19th Century     Early American Technology Judith A. McGaw,2014-01-01 This collection of original essays documents technology s centrality to the history of early America Unlike much previous scholarship this volume emphasizes the quotidian rather than the exceptional the farm household seeking to preserve food or acquire tools the surveyor balancing economic and technical considerations while laying out a turnpike the woman of child bearing age employing herbal contraceptives and the neighbors of a polluted urban stream debating issues of property odor and health These cases and others drawn from brewing mining farming and woodworking enable the authors to address recent historiographic concerns including the environmental aspects of technological change and the gendered nature of technical knowledge Brooke Hindle s classic 1966 essay on early American technology is also reprinted and his view of the field is reassessed A bibliographical essay and summary of Hindle s bibliographic findings conclude the volume The contributors are Judith A McGaw Robert C Post Susan E Klepp Michal McMahon Patrick W O Bannon Sarah F McMahon Donald C Jackson Robert B Gordon Carolyn C Cooper and Nina E Lerman

Ingenious Yankees Donald Hoke,1984     Beating Plowshares Into Swords Paul A. C. Koistinen,1996 Koistinen describes how an undeveloped preindustrial economy forced Americans to fight defensive wars of attrition like the Revolution and the War of 1812 By the time of the Mexican War however a gradually maturing economy allowed the United States to use a much more offensive minded strategy to achieve its goals The book concludes with an exhaustive examination of the Civil War a conflict that both anticipated and differed from the total wars of the industrialized era Koistinen demonstrates that the North relied upon its enormous economic might to overwhelm the Confederacy through a strategy of annihilation while the South bungled its own strategy of attrition by failing to mobilize effectively a much less developed economy     The Rise and Fall of Mass Production Steven Tolliday,1998 This important collection presents in two volumes the most significant papers on the history of mass production and highlights crucial debates in the attempt to understand the phenomenon and its social and economic effects The selection focuses on six important themes Volume I opens with an exploration of the antecedents to mass production and an investigation of the mechanical economic and social roots of the transformation in production methods at the beginning of the 20th century The following section examines the emergence of Fordism and the fundamental elements of the new system The final section describes the extent to which mass production has spread through the wider economy and the ways in which it has changed in the process In Volume II the first section covers the impact of mass production on work and the workers The second section looks at how Japan has exploited the principles of mass production and may indeed have evolved a new form of productive organisation The concluding section raises the question of whether in the late 20th century the dominance of mass production is in decline
