

Before adding oil, make sure the engine is off and the oil is cool. If the engine is hot, the oil will be too hot to touch and may cause burns. Wait at least 5 minutes after the engine has been running before checking the oil level. If the oil level is low, add the recommended oil to the oil filler cap. Do not overfill. The oil level should be at the 'Full' mark on the dipstick. If the oil level is too low, it can cause engine damage. If the oil level is too high, it can cause oil leaks and engine damage. Always use the recommended oil grade and type. Check the oil level regularly, especially before long trips.

WARNING: Do not use oil that is not recommended by the manufacturer. Using the wrong oil can cause engine damage. Always use the recommended oil grade and type.

When adding oil, use a funnel to pour the oil into the oil filler cap. Do not pour oil directly into the engine. After adding oil, check the oil level on the dipstick. If the oil level is still low, add more oil. Do not overfill. The oil level should be at the 'Full' mark on the dipstick. If the oil level is too low, it can cause engine damage. If the oil level is too high, it can cause oil leaks and engine damage. Always use the recommended oil grade and type. Check the oil level regularly, especially before long trips.

ENGINE OIL SERVICE

The engine oil service interval is determined by the number of miles driven or the number of months since the last oil change, whichever comes first. The recommended oil service interval is every 5,000 miles or 6 months. If you drive in severe conditions, such as stop-and-go traffic, short trips, or extreme temperatures, you should change the oil more frequently. Always use the recommended oil grade and type. Check the oil level regularly, especially before long trips.

ENGINE COOLANT HEAD SERVICE

The engine coolant head service interval is determined by the number of miles driven or the number of months since the last coolant service, whichever comes first. The recommended coolant service interval is every 30,000 miles or 3 years. If you drive in severe conditions, such as stop-and-go traffic, short trips, or extreme temperatures, you should service the coolant more frequently. Always use the recommended coolant grade and type. Check the coolant level regularly, especially before long trips.

ENGINE COOLANT SYSTEM

The engine coolant system is responsible for circulating coolant through the engine to keep it at a normal operating temperature. If the coolant system is not working properly, the engine can overheat and cause damage. The recommended coolant service interval is every 30,000 miles or 3 years. If you drive in severe conditions, such as stop-and-go traffic, short trips, or extreme temperatures, you should service the coolant more frequently. Always use the recommended coolant grade and type. Check the coolant level regularly, especially before long trips.
