2014 Grade 11 September Life Paper

Julien Mercille, Enda Murphy

2014 Grade 11 September Life Paper:

We Are Better Than This Robyn Cadwallader, 2015-10-07 We Are Better Than This is a collection of essays and poetry addressing the Australian government's asylum seeker policy. The aims of the book are several: to provide some of the information about the situation in detention camps that is being withheld by the government; to correct some of the government's misrepresentations of the current situation; to clarify some of the complex legal issues surrounding the right to seek asylum; and to give some insight into the plight of those who are seeking asylum. It is hoped that this book will better inform people about the government's policies to support those who are unsatisfied and seeking to change the situation as well as those who are uncertain and need more easily accessible and reliable information. Contributors are drawn from several areas of expertise and engagement with asylum seekers.

Dwight Diller Lewis M. Stern, 2016-05-09 Dwight Hamilton Diller is a musician from West Virginia devoted to traditional Appalachian fiddle and banjo music and a seminary trained minister steeped in local Christian traditions. For the past 40 years he has worked to preserve archaic fiddle and banjo tunes, teaching his percussive primitively rhythmic style to small groups in marathon banjo workshops. This book tells of Diller's life and music, his personal challenges, and his decades of teaching an elusive musical form.

Race Rights Reparations Fernne Brennan, 2017-07-14 This book considers institutional racism as a problem that exists within modern societies. Its roots lie with the transatlantic slave trade and slavery, and the solution involves ridding society of the problem. It is argued here that first there needs to be an acceptance of its existence, then developing the tools needed to deal with it, and finally to implement those tools so that institutional racism can be permanently removed from society. The book has four themes: the first considers the nature of institutional racism; the second theme looks at instances of institutional racism through matters such as deaths in custody and skin lightening; the third considers the concept of reparations; and the final area looks at the development of social movements as a way of pushing institutional racism up the political agenda. The development of a social movement is part of a social discourse which would, for example, push mentoring as a form of reparations. There is a need for more research on the manifestations of institutional racism, and this book is part of that discourse. It is argued that the legacy of the slave trade and slavery is continuing and contemporary through the presence of institutional racism in society. This problem has not been addressed through legislation and policies devised to combat racial discrimination. Institutional racism needs to be understood as being located in the processes and procedures of societal institutions.

Youth, Masculinity and the Labour Market James Kartal Gülgeçer, 2026-02-13 This book examines young men's precarious education to employment transitions as they navigate educational, occupational, and emotional challenges in the shadow of deindustrialisation and austerity. Using a mixed methods approach, Gülgeçer draws on survey and interview data to explore young men's perceptions and experiences of employment, unemployment, education, and training in two post-industrial British cities. The book analyses how structural inequalities fragmented labour markets biased education systems and punitive welfare regimes shape uncertain futures With education emerging as a risky gamble apprenticeships desired but underfunded and unemployment often experienced as both stigma and moral injury the study foregrounds the emotional costs of precarity shame anxiety and resilience and reveals a fractured yet enduring agency among young men facing economic abandonment and processes of cultural misrecognition in post industrial contexts An interplay of material and affective precarity in youth education to employment transitions this book will appeal to scholars and students of sociology social policy youth studies labour market studies and masculinities It will also be of value to professionals engaged with UK welfare skills and labour market policy Deepening

Neoliberalism, Austerity, and Crisis Julien Mercille, Enda Murphy, 2015-07-07 From bank bailouts to austerity Europe's and Ireland's response to the economic crisis has been engineered specifically to shift the burden of paying for the crisis onto ordinary citizens while investors financiers bankers and the privileged are protected The authors expose the class based nature of Ireland's crisis resolution What's Left Now? Andrew Hindmoor, 2018-02-02 Our sense of history shapes how we think about ourselves One of the distinguishing features of the left in Britain is that it holds to a remorselessly bleak and miserabilist view of our recent political history one in which Margaret Thatcher's election in 1979 marked the start of a still continuing fall from political grace made evident by the triumph of a free market get what you can neoliberal ideology dizzying levels of inequality social decay rampant individualism state authoritarianism and political corruption The left does not like what has happened to us and it does not like what we have become Andrew Hindmoor argues that this history is wrong and self harming It is wrong because Britain has in many respects become a more politically attractive and progressive country over the last few decades It is self harming because this bleak history undermines faith in politics Post Brexit post Grenfell and post the 2010 2015 and 2017 general elections things may not right now look that great But looked at over the longer haul Britain is a long way from being a posterchild for neoliberalism Left wing ideas and arguments have shaped and continue to shape our politics Utah Historical Quarterly J.
