administration Note A code for accessing HKPropel is included with this ebook STEM Teachers and Teaching in the Digital Era Yifat Ben-David Kolikant, Dragana Martinovic, Marina Milner-Bolotin, 2020-02-20 This book brings together researchers from Israel and Canada to discuss the challenges today's teachers and teacher educators face in their practice. There is a growing expectation that the 21st century STEM teachers re-examine their teaching philosophies and adjust their practices to reflect the increasing role of digital technologies. This expectation presents a significant challenge to teachers who are often asked to implement novel technology-rich pedagogies they did not have a chance to experience as students or become comfortable with. To exacerbate this challenge the 21st century teachers function not only in a frequently changing educational reality manifested by continuous reforms but are also bombarded by often contradictory and competing demands from the legislators, administrators, parents and students. How do we break the vicious circle of reforms and support STEM teachers in making a real change in student learning? This book is unique for at least three reasons. First it showcases research situated in Israel and Canada that examines the challenges today's teachers and teacher educators face in their practice. While the governments of both countries emphasize STEM education their approaches are different and thus provide for interesting comparisons. Second in addition to including research based chapters prominent scholars discuss the contributions in each of the book sections problematizing the issues from a global perspective. Third technology has a potential to empower teachers in this era of change and this book provides the unique insights from each country while allowing for comparisons discussing solutions and asking new questions. This book will be of interest to all involved in STEM teacher education programs or graduate programs in education as well as to educational administrators interested in implementing technology in their schools.

The Power of Bad John Tierney, Roy F. Baumeister, 2019-12-31 From the international bestselling authors of Willpower Why does a bad impression last longer than a good one? Why does losing money affect us more than gaining it? What makes phobias so hard to shake? The answer is the negativity bias or in other words the power of bad. As John Tierney and Roy F. Baumeister show we are wired to react to bad over good. It makes sense in evolutionary terms but in our modern world the lure of bad is well bad. It governs people's moods, drives marketing and dominates our news. It can explain everything from why wars start or couples divorce to why we mess up job interviews or feud with neighbours. But there is good news. By using smart strategies from new science we can train our brains to get better at spotting our own negativity bias, fighting back with our rational minds to manage the bad in our lives and even using its power for positive results. Breaking bad's hold over us can help our own lives at work and in our relationships. Properly understood bad can be a good thing.
