Dividing the Faith Richard J. Boles, 2020-12-29 Uncovers the often overlooked participation of African Americans and Native Americans in early Protestant churches Phyllis Wheatley was stolen from her family in Senegambia and in 1761 slave traders transported her to Boston Massachusetts to be sold She was purchased by the Wheatley family who treated Phyllis far better than most eighteenth century slaves could hope and she received a thorough education while still of course longing for her freedom After four years Wheatley began writing religious poetry She was baptized and became a member of a predominantly white Congregational church in Boston More than ten years after her enslavement began some of her poetry was published in London England as a book titled Poems on Various Subjects Religious and Moral This book is evidence that her experience of enslavement was exceptional Wheatley remains the most famous black Christian of the colonial era Though her experiences and accomplishments were unique her religious affiliation with a predominantly white church was quite ordinary Dividing the Faith argues that contrary to the traditional scholarly consensus a significant portion of northern Protestants worshipped in interracial contexts during the eighteenth century Yet in another fifty years such an affiliation would become increasingly rare as churches were by and large segregated Richard Boles draws from the records of over four hundred congregations to scrutinize the factors that made different Christian traditions either accessible or inaccessible to African American and American Indian peoples By including Indians Afro Indians and black people in the study of race and religion in the North this research breaks new ground and uses patterns of church participation to illuminate broader social histories Overall it explains the dynamic history of racial integration and segregation in northern colonies and states Statistical Register of the Colony of Victoria Victoria Statist's Office,1871 Vol for 1895 contains Statistical summary 1836 95 table Susan Angeline Collins: with a Hallelujah Heart Janis Bennington Van Buren,2021-04-27 Ten percent of book profits will go to the Susan Angeline Collins Scholarship at Upper Iowa University in Fayette Iowa Get ready to delve into a world of hardship challenge and fulfillment Explore the life of African American Susan Angeline Collins and be inspired by her faith pioneering attitude missionary successes unfailing courage and belief in everyone's right to an education As Miss Collins life unfolds before you relevant social issues affecting people of color are intertwined Issues examined include economics education gender race religion and Africa's colonization from her 1851 birth in Illinois until her 1940 death in Iowa Her resourcefulness in overcoming obstacles during her 33 year commitment to missionary service in the Congo Delta Region and Angola is compelling Miss Collins story demonstrates the difference one person can make in the lives of an unknown number of women and children some orphaned and homeless and others escaping early marriage and subservience Her leadership is evidenced when starting a girls school in the northern Angolan high plateau region years before Mary Jane McLeod Bethune initiated her school for African American girls in Florida You will be gratified to discover how this diminutive bundle of energy achieved recognition as a stalwart missionary leader teacher nurse construction manager and surrogate mother to her girls

Michigan Christian Advocate ,1923 Enfleshing Theology Michele Saracino,Robert J. Rivera,2018-10-31 Enfleshing Theology honors and engages the life work of M Shawn Copeland whose theology is groundbreaking and prophetic traversing the fields of Catholic Theology Black Theology Womanist Thought and Semiotics The book opens with a brief introduction and then moves to an interview with Copeland which connects her theology to her life stories The conversation with Copeland also provides a backdrop to the seventeen essays that follow extending Copeland's theological worldview The contributions are divided according to the following sections embodiment discipleship and politics The essays in the section entitled Engaging Embodiment critically reflect on the importance of embodiment in Christian theology and contemporary culture Following Copeland's lead authors in this section theorize and theologize the body particularly but not limited to Black women's bodies as a locus theologicus that reveals mediates and shapes the splendor and suffering reality of human existence The next section entitled Engaging Discipleship focuses on the concrete challenges of following Jesus in today's world The essays included in this section reflect on Copeland's focus on Jesus particularly in terms of his solidarity with and for others Discipleship is about modeling and mentoring so scholars in this section also comment on Copeland's contribution to teaching and pedagogy The last section entitled Engaging the Political interrogates the political implications of the theological It is noteworthy that there are two trajectories of the political here one is Copeland s development of political theology through the lens of Canadian Jesuit theologian Bernard Lonergan The other trajectory focuses on the work of theology in contemporary art and politics These three sections are fluid and overlap with one another Several of the articles on embodiment speak to questions of solidarity and a few of the essays on discipleship clearly present as political The ways in which each of the contributions in this volume overlap with each other attests to the complex nature of doing constructive theology today and even more how Copeland s work is at the forefront of that multi layered polyvalent intersectional theological work Arkansas Methodist ,1922 Journals of the Senate and House Oregon.
