Plant Natural Products for Human Health Chun-Tao Che, Hongjie Zhang, 2019-03-21 Plants have served mankind as an important source of foods and medicines. While we all consume plants and their products for nutritional support a majority of the world population also rely on botanical remedies to meet their health needs either as their own traditional medicine or as complementary and alternative medicine. From a pharmaceutical point of view many compounds obtained from plant sources have long been known to possess bio pharmacological activities and historically plants have yielded many important drugs for human use from morphine discovered in the early nineteenth century to the more recent paclitaxel and artemisinin. Today we are witnessing a global resurgence in interest and use of plant based therapies and botanical products and natural products remain an important and viable source of lead compounds in many drug discovery programs. This Special Issue on Plant Natural Products for Human Health compiles a series of scientific reports to demonstrate the medicinal potentials of plant natural products. It covers a range of disease targets such as diabetes, inflammation, cancer, neurological disease, cardiovascular disease, liver damage, bacterial and fungus infection and malaria. These papers provide important insights into the current state of research on drug discovery and new techniques. It is hoped that this Special Issue will serve as a timely reference for researchers and scholars who are interested in the discovery of potentially useful molecules from plant sources for health related applications.

Event Data Recorder (EDR) Interpretation Christopher Armstrong, 2018-11-02 Collision Reconstruction Methodologies Volume 7B The last ten years have seen explosive growth in the technology available to the collision analyst changing the way reconstruction is practiced in fundamental ways. The greatest technological advances for the crash reconstruction community have come in the realms of photogrammetry and digital media analysis. The widespread use of scanning technology has facilitated the implementation of powerful new tools to digitize forensic data, create 3D models and visualize and analyze crash vehicles and environments. The introduction of unmanned aerial systems and standardization of crash data recorders to the crash reconstruction community have enhanced the ability of a crash analyst to visualize and model the components of a crash reconstruction. Because of the technological changes occurring in the industry many SAE papers have been written to address the validation and use of new tools for collision reconstruction. Collision Reconstruction Methodologies Volumes 1-12 bring together seminal SAE technical papers surrounding advancements in the crash reconstruction field. Topics featured in the series include Night Vision Study and Photogrammetry, Vehicle Event Data Recorders, Motorcycle, Heavy Vehicle, Bicycle and Pedestrian Accident Reconstruction. The goal is to provide the latest technologies and methodologies being introduced into collision reconstruction appealing to crash analysts, consultants and safety engineers alike.
