Adoption and impact of OER in the Global South Cheryl Hodgkinson-Williams, Brazil Arinto, 2017-12-29 Education in the Global South faces several key interrelated challenges for which Open Educational Resources OER are seen to be part of the solution. These challenges include unequal access to education, variable quality of educational resources, teaching and student performance, and increasing cost and concern about the sustainability of education. The Research on Open Educational Resources for Development ROER4D project seeks to build on and contribute to the body of research on how OER can help to improve access, enhance quality and reduce the cost of education in the Global South. This volume examines aspects of educator and student adoption of OER and engagement in Open Educational Practices (OEP) in secondary and tertiary education, as well as teacher professional development in 21 countries in South America, Sub-Saharan Africa and South and Southeast Asia. The ROER4D studies and syntheses presented here aim to help inform Open Education advocacy, policy practice and research in developing countries.

Culture, philosophies and reforms in public administration for the globalizing world Edwin O.C. Ijeoma, Ogochukwu I. Nzewi, 2018-12-31 The aim of this scholarly collected work is to contribute to the scientific discourse on public administration in a globalised environment. The book reflects on governance challenges in South Africa and in Africa, with its point of departure being the master narratives, the so-called grand debates such as New Public Management and specifically the role of technology. It also reflects on the so-called middle range discourses concerning organisational level issues in government, e.g. leadership and work procedures, and explores new solutions to old governance challenges like corruption and service delivery. The uniqueness of this collected work lies in its ability to reflect on existing philosophies and practices in an innovative way. Through its multidisciplinary lens, the book opens up a new vision for the future of public administration in the South African context and on the African continent, not neglecting the current local, regional and global environment. Until recently, globalisation was considered an entrenched world order, but international political events during the course of the past few years have resulted in one of the biggest challenges to its endurance in recent history. This includes developments such as the successful referendum in Britain to exit the European Union, highlighting the growth of a severe nationalist and protectionist agenda that may be a signal of the unravelling of the current globalism world order. These developments inspire deeper interrogation of the challenges to effective public administration globally and the ripple effects in South Africa and Africa as a whole. Pointedly, it is evident that ensuring the voice of citizens in policy decision making remains a critical governance challenge. On the policy front, there are perennial challenges of land reform, service delivery and poverty, while on the governance front, corruption has metastasised with a growing culture of impunity and lack of accountability in leadership. In the midst of growing corruption and more than 20 years into democracy, South Africa's income inequality remains one of the highest in the world. This setting constitutes the context of the research outcome published in this scholarly work.

Transforming Higher Education in Asia and Africa

Fred M. Hayward, 2020-03-01 Drawing on over fifty years of on the ground experience Fred M Hayward's Transforming Higher Education in Asia and Africa analyzes change processes in higher education in eight Asian and African countries. The twelve cases range from the push to upgrade and transform higher education in Afghanistan in the midst of a war to the successful struggle against apartheid in South African institutions as well as thwarted efforts in Sierra Leone and Madagascar. Providing both practical lessons learned and hope for communities globally Hayward demonstrates that higher education change and even transformation which is more fundamental and structural can occur even in the most difficult environments. Successful transformation requires well crafted strategic and budget plans with careful implementation monitoring and effective leadership at multiple levels. Yet also critical are a commitment to human development a desire for freedom and belief in democracy and recognition that high quality higher education is essential to national development.

Nationalism, Politics and Anthropology Ilana van Wyk, Jimmy Pieterse, 2022-02-28 In this book Ilana van Wyk and Jimmy Pieterse interrogate the question of political subjectivity and its role in the making of anthropology and anthropologists by revisiting the pitched battles between so called liberal social anthropologists and conservative nationalist volkekundiges in South Africa. They pay particular attention to the social and cultural lives of two men who were central proponents of South African anthropology's two tales Kees van der Waal a former volkekundige and John Sharp once one of volkekunde's fiercest critics. Through a series of conversations with Kees and John they show that the issues that once divided a local field still animate the ways in which centres and peripheries of global anthropology relate to one another and to foundational questions about the discipline's epistemology and political positionality.

Social Justice and Education in the 21st Century Willie Pearson Jr., Vijay Reddy, 2021-04-10 The world is not an equal place. There are high and low income countries and high and low income households. For each group there are differential educational opportunities leading to differential educational outcomes and differential labor market opportunities. This pattern often reproduces the privileges and inequalities of groups in a society. This book explores this differentiation in education from a social justice lens. Comparing the United States and South Africa this book analyzes each country's developmental thinking on education from human capital and human rights approaches in both primary and higher education. The enclosed contributions draw from different disciplines including legal studies, sociology, psychology, computer science and public policy.

Learning Spaces in Africa Ola Uduku, 2018-06-14 With a key UN Sustainable Development Goal for 2030 being to make basic education available to all the world's children Learning Spaces in Africa explores the architectural, socio political and economic policy factors that have contributed to school design the main spaces for education and learning in Africa. It traces the development of school building design focusing on Western and Southern Africa from its emergence in the 19th century to the present day. Uduku's analysis draws attention to the past historic links of schools to development processes from their early 19th century missionary origins to their re emergence as development hubs in the 21st century. Learning Spaces in Africa uses this research as a basis to suggest fundamental changes to basic education which respond to new technological advances and constituencies in learning Illustrated case studies describe the use of tablets in refugee community schools hole in the wall learning and shared school community learning spaces This book will be beneficial for students academics and those interested in the history of educational architecture and its effect on social development particularly in Africa and with relevance to countries elsewhere in the emerging world   Kaapse bibliotekaris ,2019 Issues for Nov 1957 include section Accessions Aanwinsts Sept 1957
