Village in South Asian Literatures A. Mohan, 2012-07-24 Shifting the postcolonial focus away from the city and towards the village, this book examines the rural as a trope in twentieth-century South Asian literatures to propose a new literary history based on notions of utopia, dystopia, and heterotopia and how these ideas have circulated in the literary and the cultural imaginaries of the subcontinent. The Complete Review Guide to Contemporary World Fiction M.A.

Orthofer, 2016-04-19 A user-friendly reference for English language readers who are eager to explore contemporary fiction from around the world. Profiling hundreds of titles and authors from 1945 to today with an emphasis on fiction published in the past two decades, this guide introduces the styles, trends, and genres of the world's literatures from Scandinavian crime thrillers and cutting-edge Chinese works to Latin American narco-fiction and award-winning French novels. The book's critical selection of titles defines the arc of a country's literary development. Entries illuminate the fiction of individual nations, cultures, and peoples, while concise biographies sketch the careers of noteworthy authors. Compiled by M.A. Orthofer, an avid book reviewer and the founder of the literary review site The Complete Review, this reference is perfect for readers who wish to expand their reading choices and knowledge of contemporary world fiction. A bird's-eye view of titles and authors from everywhere, a book overfull with reminders of why we love to read international fiction. Keep it close by Robert Con Davis, Udiano executive director, World Literature Today. M.A. Orthofer has done more to bring literature in translation to America than perhaps any other individual. This book will introduce more new worlds to you than any other book on the market. Tyler Cowen, George Mason University. A relaxed riverine guide through the main currents of international writing with sections for more than a hundred countries on six continents. Karan Mahajan, Page Turner blog, The New Yorker.

Global Failure and World Literature Karen Borg Cardona, 2023-10-24 While the contemporary era has witnessed a series of spectacular failures with severe and widespread global consequences, failure is still broadly understood on an individual level while its broader causes and consequences receive little attention. This book reconceptualises failure as a method for characterising and critiquing systems and institutions on both a global and a local level. It defines global failure as comprising global inequality, economic crisis, and ecological disaster and as a condition which informs and is informed by localised failure. It examines the negotiation between global and local failure in narratives of failed quests by four contemporary authors: Cormac McCarthy, Julia Kristeva, Michael Ondaatje, and Basma Abdel Aziz. As a genre, the quest narrative is associated with the idea of hard-won success. The failed quest narrative or the narrative of the failed quest is therefore the ideal vehicle through which to examine the socio political and institutional conditions of failure Primarily a contribution to the field of world literature this book is also relevant to those with an interest in the contemporary novel failure studies and the quest narrative In Mixed Company Julia Roberts,2009-07-01 In Mixed Company explores taverns as colonial public space and how men and women of diverse backgrounds Native and newcomer privileged and labouring white and non white negotiated a place for themselves within them The stories that emerge unsettle comfortable certainties about who belonged where in colonial society Colonial taverns were places where labourers enjoyed libations with wealthy Aboriginal traders like Captain Thomas who also treated a Scotsman to a small bowl of punch where white soldiers rubbed shoulders with black colonists out to celebrate Emancipation Day where English ladies and their small children sought refuge for a night The records of the past tell stories of time spent in mixed company but also of the myriad unequal ways that colonists found room in taverns and a place in Upper Canadian culture and society Reconstructed from tavern keepers accounts court records diaries travelogues and letters In Mixed Company is essential reading for tavern aficionados and anyone interested in the history of gender race and culture in Canadian or colonial society Fuse Magazine ,2001
